Whitmoyer's Plant Manager
Makes a Bid For Seal
Carcasses

The Whitmoyer Laboratories in Rockland, processors of fish wastes for fish meal and oils, have announced that, as the results of recent experiments conducted by the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries, they will immediately start the reduction of seal carcasses for meal and oils.

Receiving stations along the coast regularly used by the company for fish waste will accept the seal bodies from fishermen, paying one cent per pound. The firm operates receiving points at Jonesport and Lubec in Washington County; Prospect, Vinalhaven and in Portland in addition to their plant in Rockland.

Whitmoyer's plant is located on Wharf street in Rockland on what was the former Thorndike & Hix wharf. Opening just before the war, they were originally engaged in the processing of fish livers for oils. The oils extracted here were shipped to their main plant at Myerstown, Pa., for purification and use in livestock feeds and industry.

Later they expanded and included the reduction of wastes from the coastal fish plants to fish meal.

Women wrestlers will again appear at the Rockland Community Building Tuesday, April 15, when June Byers and Helen Hilds head a three match card. Two out of three falls in a 90-minute time limit will determine the winner. The semi-final brings back Ivan Braun who faces Ted Germaine in a 45-minute time limit bout. The opener will be between Les Ryan and Ed LaClere.

The Agnes Brown property at 440 Main street has been sold by Freeman S. Young to Albert McLean Smith, who will reside there.

Won First Place

Oliver Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Curtis of Ash Point, brought new honors to Rockland High School at Augusta when he won first place at the State Science Fair.

In the finals he was competing against the eight best speakers in the State in Chemistry, Physics, and Biology. His talk on lobstering was entirely different from the others and appealed to everyone. He demonstrated his talk with slides, a live lobster, trap, buoys, and all other equipment necessary for lobstering, and even the art of knitting nets. The lobsters used were donated by Look's, McLoon's and Witham's. He knew his subject thoroughly and was able to answer quickly all questions asked during the five minute question period allotted.

Parents and friends of the school are invited to hear his talk Thursday night at the High School P.T.A. day night at the High School P.T.A.

Mae Craig's Talk

Famed Columnist Pulled No
Punches—Lauds John L.
Lewis And Fears
New War

The magic that is Mae Craig charmed a near capacity audience at the High School auditorium last night when the famed columnist told in her inimitable style the intimate story of Washington's "greats". She was presented by Mrs. Lawrence Miller, president of the Knox Hospital Auxiliary under whose auspices she appeared.

Frankly and naively Democratic in her opinions, Mrs. Craig nevertheless was eminently fair in her characterizations and was not above hurling pleasantly barbed comments at even the man in the Whitehouse, Senator Taft, Senator Brewster, Senators Bridges and White were commented upon as well as Representative Smith and other celebrities. Mrs. Craig is frankly disturbed over the long bickering on the confirmation of Lillenthal and its consequent delays in the atomic development. She painted a dark picture of the next World War. She is an outspoken champion of John L. Lewis who she considers the ablest man on the American scene. In answer to a special request she told most interestingly of her experience in Russia, and her story of conditions in the Ruhr Valley were vivid, and distressing. She told briefly of her recent invasion of Mexico with the Truman good will party, though this was in lighter vein.

The Auxiliary members took up a silver collection and later held a public reception at the Bok Home for Nurses, honoring Mrs. Craig. The story of the social amenities is necessarily postponed to a subsequent issue.

Stevens Appealed

Stillman S. Stevens of Rockland pleaded guilty to charges of drunken driving brought by the Rockland police in Municipal Court this morning. He was fined $100 and costs of court of $15.00.

The charges arose from an accident at 8:20 Monday night when a truck of the Rockland Fuel Co. operated by Stevens, crashed into a light pole in the center of Tillson avenue opposite John Bird Co. and continued on to demolish a water-tight trough close to the pole.

Stevens appealed the sentence to the May term of Superior Court when he learned that a 30 day jail sentence must be served upon failure to pay the fine and costs.

The Coast Guard rescue boat, CGC 80004 is enroute to a position 12 miles East Southeast of Matinicus Rock in answer to a distress call from the dragger, Helen B. The craft's master called for Coast Guard assistance at 8:45 a. m., today; reporting that he had a broken reduction gear and was inoperative. The 80004 will tow the dragger to Rockland.

Warren Voters

Will Decide Important Matters At Saturday's Meeting

There are 13 articles in the warrant posted for the special town meeting to be held at 1 o'clock April 12 at the Town House. They will deal with the bettering of fire protection in Warren and ordinances for handling traffic in the village, especially on the bridge.

The voters will decide the question of organizing a fire department, making rules to govern it; of disposing of one truck and housing the other two in Riverside street engine house; the setting up of funds to buy equipment; the payment of the officers and men; and the matter of borrowing $3000 to be used for reconditioning of equipment and purchasing new. Various other fire department matters will come up for discussion.

Other matters to be taken up, not set over from the annual town meeting, will be to see if the town will accept the provisions of Maine revised statutes relating to secret balloting; to see if the town will authorize the selectmen to borrow a sum of money from Ira E. Perry of Warren, for the purpose of building a 20-foot wide State-aid road, on what is the station road between the Life Saver Cabins on Route 1 to the Maine Central Railroad Station, Mr. Perry agreeing that if the road is started by May 1 this year, he will provide all base materials free, and will loan the town the necessary sum of money for two years without interest. Also to be taken up will be the matter of permitting the Warren Woman's Club to occupy, remodel and care for the offices used formerly by the selectmen and the assessors, at Town Hall.

Want River Dredged

The Medomak At Waidoboro
Has Been Clogging
Since 1913

A petition signed by citizens of Waidoboro and vicinity asking Federal action to render the Medomak River at Waidoboro navigable, has been received by Representative Margaret Chase Smith and forwarded to the chief of engineers of the army with request for immediate investigation.

Mrs. Smith has been told that the river was dredged in 1913 but nothing done since to keep the channel in good condition. She gives some hope for relief in discovery that the War Department has a maintenance fund for this project which has not been used because the War Department believed the condition of the river satisfactory in as much as no complaints were received. Whether or not this fund is still available Mrs. Smith has not been able to ascertain.

Constituents told Mrs. Smith that without immediate attention, the river coming into Waidoboro, will only be navigable at flood tide. At present the channel is filled in at so many places that no sizable commercial or pleasure craft enter. Even rowboats have difficulty keeping afloat at low tide. The clam industry provides a livelihood for a number of families at Waidoboro and surrounding communities and this means a large amount of money kept in annual circulation.

Deer By The Tail

What Brave Little Fay Watmouth Of South Hope Did
In Emergency

Editor of The Courier-Gazette: What would the average girl, nine years of age do when suddenly confronted by a wild animal in the woods? Especially if this girl should be alone, with no help near?

This is what a young Miss living in South Hope did very recently. Miss Fay Watmouth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watmouth while deep in a meadow pasture did when she suddenly ran on to an adult deer entangled in a woven wire fence, which had proved too high for the deer to scale.

Fearlessly, but perhaps not wisely, she grasped the animal by its tail and after quite a struggle released the tired, panting creature which probably silently voiced its thanks.

Deer are very frequently seen on this farm, known as the Fogler place, consisting of about 700 acres. Fay emerged from this encounter without receiving a scratch.

This is not a "nature faking" story. Sometimes truth is stranger than "fictions" as my old friend Knott Perry used to frequently remark.
A. Jay See,
Union, April 3.

Friends and members of Tyler P.T.A. are looking forward to a public game party at the Warren street school Wednesday night, May 7. ## SHUT-DOWN IS TEMPORARY

President of Algin Corporation Explains the Present Situation

New York, April 4.
Editor of The Courier-Gazette: Our attention has been called to an item in your issue of March 28, 1947, entitled "Algin Plant To Close."

We should like to emphasize that no more than a temporary shut-down is involved, pending revival of demand from new sources whose experimental work with our products has been progressing favorably.

A small force, including all the key men, continues to be maintained at the plant for necessary maintenance and repair work, and our harvesting operations in Nova Scotia continue in order to create a sizeable stock of kelp to be processed as soon as production in the plant is resumed.

Similar shut-downs have occurred before and are of course a common occurrence in many phases of industry. They are extremely regrettable and should be avoided whenever possible. They do not, however, have any particular significance insofar as the future success of any enterprise is concerned.

We feel that these additional details in connection with the shut-down of our plant may be of interest to you at this time. They are not meant as a correction of the article published in your newspaper but as an amplification.
Algin Corporation of America,
C. E. Lichtenauer, pres.

Bikini Bomb Test

Story To Be Told By Eye
Witness At Joint Meeting Of Rockland Clubs

The story of the famous Bikini bomb test, with motion pictures, will be told at a joint meeting of Rockland service clubs and men's organizations to be held at the Thorndike Hotel Thursday, May 1, sponsored by the Rockland Lions Club.

The lecture is to be presented by President William S. Newell of Bath, who was an eye-witness of the epochal event.

Technicolor pictures will give a faithful reproduction of the test as conducted from the air and under water.

As it is to be President Newell's only appearance in the Rockland area it is desired that there be an attendance of 200. Men who do not belong to any of the local service or men's clubs are invited, but should make their dinner reservations with Almon Cooper, who contacted Mr. Newell for the Rockland lecture.

A loud speaker will be provided in order that everybody may plainly hear the lecture.

To Discuss Smelts

Com'r Reed To Hold Public
Meeting In Waidoboro
Next Thursday

As the result of a petition signed by 82 residents of Waidoboro and vicinity, Sea and Shore Fisheries Commissioner Richard E. Reed will hold a public hearing here at the assessor's office at 2 p. m., next Thursday, to discuss the local smelt situation.

In the petition, Reed was requested to modify the paragraph of Rule and Regulation No. 117 that covers smelting in the Medomak River by deleting the phrase "for private use up to 12 dozen a night per family."

If such action is taken any person would be permitted to take as many smelts as he or she could catch and to dispose of them either by sale or in any other manner, according to the Commissioner.

Special interest attaches to the forthcoming meeting of the Junior-Senior High P.T.A. because the proposed revision of the State P.T.A. by-laws will be received and delegates for the May convention will be appointed and instructed.

THE BLACK CAT

By The Roving Reporter

Countless contributors who send in news items containing the word "evening" may wonder why it is changed to night. The office rule of this newspaper is that the 24 hours are divided into day and night. The World's New Dictionary defines "evening" as "the latter part of the day; the beginning of night." The word "evening" would hence hardly apply to events taking place between 8 and 11 or 12 p. m.

I was privileged yesterday to inspect some old newspapers, including a copy of The Democrat, published in 1805, with the name of the subscriber Gen. H. Knox in the margin. Other old papers included the Boston Gazette (1808), the National Republican (1832) and the Thomaston Recorder (1845). The papers are the property of Fred Fernald of Thomaston.

The Black Cat columnist of The Courier-Gazette is having a little trouble with some of his anonymous correspondents who maintain that there is no such word in the dictionary as "prostate." He refers them to Webster's New International Dictionary. Even our old dictionary which has been in the office for years, contains that word, but it has always troubled us more or less, just as the words "prostate glands" do. We always have to stop and think whether it is "prostate" or "prostrate" or "postrate" and are living in fear of them.—Bridgton News.

Three diminutive fire ladders garbed in traditional red uniforms invaded Main street yesterday and attracted lots of attention. The boys were Donald Robert Gregory, David Dolliver Gregory and Frederick Eugene Stoddard. Van Russell's nose was quite out of joint when he beheld the trappy youngsters.

One year ago, Lindon Christie of Cornish succeeded Charles E. Lord as superintendent of Camden, Thomaston and Hope Schools—Lucille Mank was awarded the High School valedictory; Barbara Koster the salutatory—The Coast Guard cutters Argo and Thetis left Rockland—Elmer Ingalls resigned as Captain of the Guard at the State Prison—Dr. J. G. Hutchins died in Camden—Six Knox County men reported in Portland for Army duty—Deaths: Camden, Mrs. Carrie Clark of Hope, 55; Thomaston, William Felt, 73; Rockland, Andrew Koski, 64; Appleton, S. Adella Gushue, 84; Rockland, Hoyt Emery, 40.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

IF I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

WOMAN
The woman's cause is man's; they rise together, dwarfed or godlike, bond or free.
For she that out of Lethe scales with man
The shining steps of Nature, shares with man
His nights, his days, moves with him to one goal.
Stays all the fair young planet in her hands—
If she be small, slight-natured, mis-erable.
How shall men grow?
For woman is not undeveloped man.
But diverse: could we make her as the man,
Sweet love were slain: his dearest bond is this.
Not like to like, but like in difference.
—Tennyson.

TIBBETTS PROTECTIVE AND INSPECTION SERVICE

Notice to Owners of Summer Estates, Shore Cottages, Stores, All Property

We are offering a unique protection and inspection service on Summer homes, cottages, stores and property to the citizens of Knox and Lincoln Counties.

Last year many Summer homes and cottages were broken into. Many breaks were not discovered for a period of two to six months and between $10,000 and $12,000 worth of household furnishings and antiques were stolen. Many of these valuables were sold out of State, making it difficult for authorities to recover.

We are offering a weekly inspection of any Summer estate for the fee of $50 annually and to stores and small cottages at the rate of $25 per year.

This service includes weekly a check of all doors and windows to make certain there have been no breaks. A card is attached to your buildings stating the time and date of inspection; also every two weeks you will receive a card informing you of the time and date of inspections.

If any breaks are discovered we will notify the proper authorities at once and also you.

By these regular inspections we then know that no more than a week has passed since the last inspection, thereby giving us something to work on and a good chance to recover the stolen goods and bring the guilty parties to justice.

RAYNOLD TIBBETTS, Manager.

For further information regarding this service call 1482 or write to: Raynold Tibbetts, 359 Main Street, Rockland, Maine.

Book Review

K. S. P.

"Spurs For Suzanna." Author Betty Cavanna. The Westminster Press, Philadelphia.

Betty Cavanna adds another delight to the reading public. My readers have lost their hearts to Betty long since. She captivates young and old—men and women, boys and girls.

She learns to grow up with three remarkable horses, Calico, Highboy and Brandy. The Ballantines have the best of life and they share all with their friends. They have only one child. "Sue," they call this fine member of the family, and she is a star in every way you will find. This story dwells with excitement for children and horses, and if you love them both, you will be highly entertained with this latest chapter of Betty Cavanna's.

Teen-agers will follow this story with keen thoughts and get much in the way of "growing up" out of all the different characters found here.

The Ballantines are a loyal family and do the right thing with Suzanna, helping her out of selfishness and a spoiled trait into the most lovable character, so that all the neighbors love her. Read it and see.

—Kathleen S. Fuller.

The Sea Scouts

There will be no meeting at the Gen. Berry Engine House Wednesday night. Instead, all members are requested to meet at Gen. Berry Square at 6 p. m., sharp, when they will be transported to Gardiner for a basketball game at the Armory and an Area meeting after at the SSS "Danforth" headquarters with the Augusta, Gardiner and Camden Ships. The local basketball team met the Gardiner five in an overtime thriller earlier this year and both teams are eager for the return match. Gardiner hopes to even the score while Rockland confidentially expects another win.

The second meeting for the Skipper's Training Course will be held at the Red Jacket Quarters, Thursday evening. Sea Bag instruction will begin at 7 and the meeting will officially open at 7:30 p. m. Last week, all ships in the Area were represented. Field Executive Howard Butler, Augusta, is conducting the course.

WHITE TO RUN AGAIN—PROBABLY

We are going to betake ourselves out onto the proverbial limb to predict that U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., will seek one more term, despite his long service and the repeated rumors as to the condition of his health. It is perhaps significant that no other candidate has announced himself. We base opinion that Senator White will run on the prominence he now occupies in Washington as majority floor leader. —rated by some of the radio commentators as one of the country's six leading statesmen. If he wants a continuance in the upper branch, and is physically capable of remaining there it would seem to be a vast mistake for Maine voters to replace him. Quoted in Washington last week Senator White emphatically denied the report that he was not going to run again, and stated that he will probably make an announcement as to candidacy within a few weeks.

TILL BUSINESS REVIVES

That the Algin plant on the Rockland waterfront is being closed only temporarily is the welcome word from the president of the Corporation, contained in his letter to the editor of this newspaper. Some readers may have gained the impression that the concern was "folding up" but this is far from being the case. President Lichtenauer says that the industry awaits only a revival of demand for the company's products which is expected to manifest itself in the near future. Meantime key men are maintaining the plant and keep gathering operations are continuing in Nova Scotia waters. A little patience and the concern will get the "go" signal.

HAS REAL TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

The headaches which Rockland business men think they are having over the main street traffic problem are not a circumstance to the situation in Providence, R. I., according to the magazine section of the Providence Sunday Journal, a copy of which has been kindly sent to us by L. S. Adams, of 108 Meeting street, a former resident of Rockland.

It tells the story of how a Cranston housewife spent 71 minutes driving 13.2 miles on a trip into the entangling downtown traffic, and says that the traffic mess costs $50,000,000 a year, the estimate involving business loss, increased transport costs and decrease in taxes.

NOW IT'S BATH'S TURN

Legislature has approved a bill providing a Council-Manager form of government for Bath and the voters will pass upon the question in a referendum election next September. The plan differs from Rockland's in one important respect. In place of its seven aldermen and 21 Common Councilmen (same as Rockland used to have) the bill calls for two councilors from each of the seven wards. Meantime the Bath voters are doubtless keeping a weather eye on the progress of the Council-Manager form in their next-door neighbor, Rockland.

WAY TO REDUCE IS "TO REDUCE"

President Truman's frank recognition that "the present burden of taxation on our people is too heavy" does not seem to have led him to the normal conclusion in such cases. He insists that tax reduction by the present Congress is out of the question. Examination of his reasons scarcely justifies his contention. It is his view that the primary concern now is debt retirement. Unquestionably that is a primary concern; but it does not follow that the two are incompatible—unless it is his idea that the annual amount of debt reduction should be left vague and permitted to fluctuate.

If the Congress would fix a standardized sum for annual retirement of debt ($5,000,000,000 has been suggested) that arrangement, coupled with the fixed charges for interest, would put the government finances upon a sound basis and permit debt retirement in an ordered way while permitting substantial tax cuts. With revenues far exceeding estimates already, this year, that would be elemental common sense. Cutting down huge loitering war budgets is always difficult. But the way to reduce is to reduce. A tax burden admittedly "too heavy" should be cut. It is the duty of Congress to act. —Boston Globe

Cascade Bowlers

Skippers Lose Snug One—Elevens Surprise 'Em—Palefaces Tounce Redmen—Goose's Big Total

The Skippers and the Ganders staged a knockdown and dragout, nip and tuck, touch and go, battle when they met on the alleys for their weekly match, but the Skippers were short just three pins and were thwarted by just that many in their avowed intention of getting even up with their opponents.

Pacing the attack for the Skippers, Wym Guilford's single of 127 and total of 309 did much to keep them in the running, but it was largely offset by the Goose's single of 113 and total of 306. Wym did this chore with his shoes on and the Lord only knows what would have happened if he had been wearing his rubber boots. Perhaps if Wym discovers he can do better stripped down to bare essentials, he may discard all foot apparel aid try it barefoot. Anything to get a good score is the motto of the Skippers.

Adams and Young for the Skippers and Grimes and Bickford for the Ganders will look at things through dark glasses for the next week, and they can sit on the places warmed by Peterson and Sanborn, Mitchell and Macdonald who will be back in the lineup next week. The Skippers are back to three game behind and unless they can get steam up in a hurry, it looks as if the Ganders will cross the finish line "the win-nah."

Skippers—Adams 247, Young 245, Anderson 280, Guilford 309, Poole 266; total 1340.

Ganders—Grimes 230, Bickford 246, Mills 273, Shields 283, Goose 266; total 1343.

It was "April Fool" for Capt. Ed. White's Sevens when they unexpectedly took a licking from Capt. Bucky Warren's Elevens (minus Capt. Warren), and that was a patched up Eleven team that did the trick. Scores were low, but the match was close and interesting.

White and Lyford, the two big guns of the Sevens, were away down and this probably accounts for the defeat of their team. Herbie Lawry, a sub, pressed into service, established a new low when he could drop only 202 of the thin sticks in the three strings, but Herbie had an alibi in some gum soled shoes that seemed to stick to the floor tighter than a wad of tuffi-fruffi. Balsh Dexter and Clint Smith will bow out after making their regular bi-weekly appearance for the Sevens, while the regulars will march in next week to take over for substitutes Williams and Lawry on the Elevens.

Poole again "rang the bell" for the winners, his 235 being tops and much better than he could turn in for his own team on Monday night. Some of the younger members of these two teams, whose appetites resemble those of a flock of gulls and whose digestion is capable of taking care of anything eatable, are Stevens, Mrs. Frances Sherer, Mrs. Minnie Gross and Miss Mabel Seaver.

Members of the Mission Circle of the local churches are invited, and friends in general. An offering will be taken.

wondering when the next feed is going to come along. Eternally hungry and eternally hopeful of assuaging that hunger, these bowlers need nourishment and pronto. Sevens—Dexter 222, Smith 261, Haskell 263, White 254, Lyford 257, total 1257.

Elevens—Williams 241, G. Swanson 270, Holmstrom 268, H. Lawry 202, Poole 285, total 1266.

The Red Men got tangled up in the underbrush again last Wednesday night and took another beating from the Palefaces, but the showing was better and there are some hopes expressed that some day they will actually win a match. No one seems discouraged about the match, however, and the Redskins seem to get as much fun out of it as the Palefaces, even if it does cost them a bit more. Where as they have been on the losing side by anything up to 100 pins, the Redmen cut their loss margin to 51, and promise to do even better when they get the range of the forest. Herbie Conway seemed to be the only bowler who had the range of the pins and his 260 was the best any of the two teams could produce for the evening.

Big Chief Dyer, sulking in his tepee, not smoking his pipe because he had run out of tobacco made talk in the sign language like the following, which may shed some light on why his team has not set the world on fire.—Said Big Chief Dyer on his fingers "Red Men hungry. Red Men need corn and venison. Pale faces eat ice cream and candy."

"Palefaces drink soda pop and sparkling water. Red Men eat claims and dandelion greens. Red Men need some 'pep' and fire water. Red Men no can bowl on empty stomach. Bimby me killum deer. Bimby me catchum big fish. Bimby we have big feet. Bimby we bowlum like hellum."

Saying Big Chief Dyer closed the flap of his tepee and while we did not get all the words he said, his meaning was clear. He wanted something to eat.

Red Men—F. Dyer 251, Barter 245, Snowfield 249, Maddox 232, O. Dyer 244, total 1291.

Palefaces—S. Davis, Sr., 245, Jr., 247, Conley 290, total 1272.

The high light of the week in bowling circles came with Thursday night's match between Doc Mills and Goose Arey who had been challenged by that youthful duo, Ed White and Walter Lyford, after the Doc and Goose had polished off Shields and Poole the previous week.

This match again proved that it will take more than just vim and vigor to take the measure of Old Times Mills and Arey, for while the match was close, in the first three strings from then on the oldsters began to pull away.

While last week it was the Doc who carried the ball, this time it was the Goose who flashed the high scores and his 512 for the five strings was the decisive factor in his side winning. He seemed to favor the "Garrison finish" style of bowling for in each and every string he came through in the last few frames with the necessary spares and strikes to pile up his margin.

It was heartbreaking for Walter Lyford who was bowling against him, to lead the Goose for the most of a string and then have the wily old boy beat him out in the last two frames. Incidentally, Walter's 120 was high for single string, but the Goose bowled 111 at the same time so there was no great gain. Ed and the Doc were both off their top form neither bowler breaking 100 for the evening. It now looks as if the top bowlers of the town will have to go into a huddle to try and find the combination that can take the measure of the old Doc and the old Goose. The chips are still on their shoulder.

Mills 446, The Goose 512, total 958.

White 445, Lyford 482, total 927.

A Fishing Upswing

Nearly Three Million Pounds Of Fish Landed Here In March

Redfish and groundfish landings at the port of Rockland for the month of March totalled 2,734,196 pounds. Below the past year's high records of more than five million, but a definite upswing from the winter months.

Captain Carl Reed of Owl's Head again is high line skipper with total landings of 339,318; 127,000 of which were on one trip. Skipper of the Jeanne D'Arc of the O'Hara fleet last year when he was consistently taking the top position, he is now going in his own boat, the David A., built last year by the Morse Boat-building Co. in Thomaston.

Second position in the fleet went to Rahma and Eugene Philbrick's Eugene H., which landed a total of 290,800 at the General Seafoods plant. Her owners have fished her out of Gloucester much of the time since she was built, and several times she has led the fleet out of there. Her skipper is James Tucker of Gloucester.

The Flo, owned by Capt. Charles Carver and Walter Ross, and captained by Ross, took third position with 223,903 pounds. Also a newcomer to the fleet the Flo was built by the Rockland Boat Shop last summer.

Fourth position went to the "Ethel C" owned by Capt. Clyson Coffin of Tenants Harbor and captained by Henry Gallant with a total of 210,000 pounds. Fifth place was taken by the "Little Growler", Capt. Norman Stinson, with 192,645 pounds.

Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S. will meet Friday with Mrs. Florence Philbrick in charge of the supper. At the evening meeting an obligation ceremony will be presented under direction of worthy matron Virginia Chatto. Members not solicited for the supper are asked to furnish sweets.

Gardner L. Brown, with the Goodyear Rubber Co. in Akron, Ohio, has been advanced to assistant manager of the Reclaim Development Department. He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Brown.

Our National Guard

Recruiting For New Unit Will Be Continued Wednesday Night

Army Week, being celebrated nationally this week, sees Rockland in the early stages of forming a National Guard unit once more, to replace the several units of the 240th Coast Artillery here before the war. Recruiting for Rockland's new National Guard anti-aircraft battery, Battery D, 703d A.A. Battalion, will be continued Wednesday night in a meeting to be held at the American Legion hall.

Captain Philip Newbert announces that sufficient men have enlisted to guarantee Federal recognition of the unit in the immediate future. A total of 96 enlisted men and four officers is authorized when the unit is at full strength, bringing into the city an annual income in excess of $40,000.

Plans for the use of several buildings at the Rockland Municipal Airport at Ash Point are still in the making. Accommodations being planned for at least one building to house the offices, supply rooms and drill hall, plus other smaller structures as yet not decided upon.

Men making application for enlistment must have their discharge papers and records of citations with them. Former anti-aircraft men are especially sought, together with the group of men now of military age but who had not reached that age while the war was still in progress.

Thomaston Schools

(By S. A. Lavender as a citizen, representing no group)

Part I

What to do about the Thomaston schools. Oh me! Oh my! Of course you want to meet and vote for passage of the article to have a committee report back to a special town meeting its recommendations of what the town should do. Indeed, yes.

And just what are the problems this committee will be up against? As I see it, the problems are these:

1. Overcrowding in the Green street School now, with such a sad packing predicted next Fall that some solution has got to be found and acted on by September.

2. Lack of any school building fund, and inability to borrow money, by the fact that town debt limit is about $85,000, of which about $10,000 is in use and unavailable.

3. Need of a domestic science room and equipment in the Main street building, and of an unpartitioned auditorium; need (?) of a cafeteria.

4. Multi-town High School merger—a possibility affecting any long range plan.

These purely physical problems have been discussed by the Budget Committee and the Parent-Teachers' Association fully, but no solution agreeable to a majority has been found. One trouble is lack of cost figures. If the new committee does not, or cannot, deliver dollar and cent answers to these 4 problems, I believe the townspeople will be as muddled as ever. It is just my opinion that one or two local contractors, for example, Robertson, Curtis, or Overlook should be called in and paid for his, or their, services in giving estimates.

There is a fifth, abstract problem, in my opinion, which has hardly been discussed. That is the quality of the education of our youth, and of the teaching of our teachers. Let us skate around on a little thin ice, a few minutes. I confess what I believe is second-hand. I ought to visit every grade and class and know for sure—first-hand. But what business man has the time? Not I.

I believe the grade education and teaching is very good. I believe there is not a real poor teacher in the grade schools. I believe they are not allowed, in the program set down for them, to teach, or stress, some subjects that ought to be stressed. A woman in this town told me that in her day Thomaston Grammar School graduates of average to superior abilities were recently at Camden Community Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Stewart.

Mrs. George Stewart has returned to Boston after spending the week-end at her home on Main street.

Mrs. Carl Wilson of Gray and son, Dr. Ross Wilson of Somerville, N. J., passed the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overlook.

able to enter business firms and handle single and double entry bookkeeping. I say in that respect the grandmothers and grandfathers of the present Eighth graders were better educated than their grandchildren.

I believe that High School education is mediocre, and High School teaching in Thomaston on the whole is not very good. I believe that the best school building in the world will not make a good teacher out of a poor one. I believe that further large salary increases in the High School, coupled with a fearless winnowing of teachers by the school board, will be the only way the standard of High School education can be raised.

I also believe that an inspiring and respected teaching staff can do almost as good a job with old-fashioned buildings and inconvenient arrangements as they could with a perfect set-up, once they get the idea out of their heads that they are abused. Better read that last sentence. I am not claiming that practical chemistry can be taught without a laboratory; or other handwork without tools.

Our schools should produce young men and women who have learned to work hard and efficiently at whatever task is given them. I question whether Thomaston High School is producing a conscientious worker today. It matters not what grade is given Thomaston High School by any college. What matters is how the graduate stands up in competition in college with out-of-State High School graduates. What matters is whether Thomaston High School produces clerks and laborers, farmers and mechanics who give a good day's work for their pay.

If all the rest of the country is shirking that just makes the condition more appalling. If we produce hard-working men and women who do not expect something for nothing, we won't have to fear Russian competition, or any other.

The new committee may conclude that this is not the year to build a new grade school, or High School, with our limited borrowing power and our dwindled dollars.

ST. GEORGE

Rev. Cornelius Ver Hoeve of Morrisville, Vt. will be guest speaker for the meetings to be held at the Tenants' Harbor Baptist Church, April 13-25. Mr. Ver Hoeve is director of the New England Bible Crusade, a non-profit faith ministry, reaching everywhere with the gospel through both the field and radio ministry. He has conducted a radio ministry over a Vermont station for the past few years and as voiced by the station has received the largest response of any devotional program originating from their studio. His ministry as expressed by a listener is "straight from the shoulder" and the gift of a tenor voice greatly enjoyed.

Plans are going forward now for Children's and Young People's Bible Camp to reach the youth with the Word.

This And That

By K. S. F.

We all know that God is the Creator of the world and the Father of all men, that He created men and nations for fellowship in His family, that His purpose is the supreme reality of human history, and that purpose must eventually lead to failure and disaster.

"For want of a nail, the shoe was lost.
For want of a shoe, the horse was lost.
For want of a horse, the rider was lost."

A city man married a country lassie and they went to New York on their honeymoon. When they entered a swank New York hotel room engaged for the grand event the bride began to cry.

"What's the matter darling?" the groom asked solicitously.
His precious, regarding the twin beds, sobbed: "I thought you said tonight we'd be alone."

Whistled Song
A whistled melody upon the air
Is more than careless vagrancy of sound;
It is the mood of minutes, made to share.
Their will in meanings casual or profound.

It boasts no finished art of breadth and scope.
But life lies hidden there and heeds the swell
Of ageless rhythms, laughter, love and hope
And tears beneath the bravery of farewell.

As a man things, so he is—if he can persuade his wife to agree with him.—Sent in by R. O. Rubel, Mobile.

Farm Cleanup Week

To Follow These Suggestions Will Be To Improve Your Farm's Value

Livestock health authorities today announced April 6-12 as the dates for the nation's annual "Farm Cleanup Week," designed to help control livestock diseases and parasites and step up 1947 farm production. With an immediate program of "common-sense measures for sanitation and disease control on the farm," the American Foundation for Animal Health declared that farmers can increase their livestock profits substantially by joining in these Spring cleanup measures.

"Clean and disinfect livestock quarters, particularly where young animals or poultry are to be born or housed."

"Clean up barnyards and livestock and haul out all manure. Old yards and manure piles are often heavily infested with parasites."

"Drain or fence off low spots in thrives in stagnant water."

"Remove old straw stacks; they harbor parasites and germs. Scatter the straw on fields."

"Pick up nails, glass and other sharp objects which can cause cuts and bruises, or might be swallowed by livestock with fatal results."

"Move young animals to fresh, clean ground as early as possible. As further protection against disease, have pigs vaccinated against cholera, and against erysipelas in erysipelas areas."

Livestock organizations and farm groups throughout the nation are being invited to co-operate in observing cleanup week this year, authorities said today.

Follow The Trend

The Rockland League of Women Voters met at the home of Mrs. William Talbot, March 24, with Mrs. Katherine Condon Foster, chairman of International Relations, in charge of the afternoon program.

Mrs. Foster introduced her husband, Frank Foster, who has recently returned from Europe where he served the UNRA. Mr. Foster spoke on "Europe's Displaced Personnel," bringing out the main problems connected with these people. They are displaced because of their stand against Government. Many cannot go back to their homes because of the fear of what may happen to them even now—families were completely broken, and with this disrupt state, the minds of the displaced personnel are not at rest and cannot be until they find a place that, to them, can be a home, and a peace of mind that comes only with purposeful living. It is a big problem and it is up to each of us to so acquaint ourselves with the situation that we may feel qualified to cope with the pressing need when called upon, to determine what shall be done with these people, and how to live in an understanding way with them.

It is interesting to note, and we bring it to your attention, the present bill in Maine Legislature, "An Act Setting Aside Certain Lands for Settlement by Displaced Persons of Battle Origin."

This world is moving at a rapid pace—train yourself to keep in the stride.
